LIVE GROCERS WHO WANT YOUR TRADE!

Thanksgiving and Christmas are two seasons when the business of grocers is vividly brought to the attention of the housewives. This fact has been recognized by the leading grocers of Hendersonville and in unmistakable terms they are using the Hustler-Democrat as a medium for telling of their Thanksgiving offerings.

Among the Thanksgiving advertisers may be found the leading grocers of the city and their announcements will doubtless appeal alike to the people of the county and city in that some of them lay especial emphasis on their business associations with the people from the rural districts who furnish them with large quantities of farm and garden products.

Since these advertisers represent the leading and most enterprising grocers of the city, a brief description of their business methods and a few words with reference to the personnel of the firms and their growth, with doubtless be of interest to their many customers. With the growing business and the distinct success that these merchants are making by showing every courtesy consistent with their work and with reference to the high quality of their goods, it would be difficult to point out the leading grocer of the city, therefore the leading ones are mentioned on these pages.

S. Maxwell & Co.

This is one of the young groceries of the city, but its age has nothing to do with the standing. Having had about seven years of experience in the grocery business with Burckmyer Brothers, Mr. Maxwell decided to open business for himself and formed a partnership with Archie Brown. They dissolved partnership after a year and less than a year ago C. H. Moore, of Birmingham, united with Mr. Maxwell and a few weeks ago the company took in G. W. Justice as a member of the firm. They have one of the most attractive stores in Hendersonville and in addition to the first floor, make use of the basement for the storing of goods. This firm has the exclusive sale of the White Rose canned goods in Hendersonville. A new feature of the business is the handling of butter-milk from the local creamery, arrangements having been made for this commodity this week.

W. F. Case.

W. F. Case, who for eleven years was associated with A. Ficker in the grocery business, has been conducting an up-to-date grocery store for two years. By close attention to business, catering to the wishes of his large number of customers among the best people of Hendersonville Mr. Case has been able to build up his business until it ranks among the foremost of the kind in Hendersonville, his long experience in this work having familiarized him with the details of the grocery business.

F. H. Kincaid.

F. H. Kincaid, who came to Hendersonville about five years ago, entered the grocery business with Mr. Pullin, with whom he was associated for a year, since which time Mr. Kincaid has by close attention to business methods built up a most satisfactory business. It has grown by leaps and bounds until it is one of the foremost in the city. He makes a specialty of fresh country produce and carries on a large business with the farmers, in connection with his trade with the residents of the city.

H. F. and W. T. Drake.

The firm of H. F. and W. T. Drake has been in existence for something over a year. H. F. Drake has had about ten years' experience in the merchandise trade and W. T. Drake was with E. L. Anders for about three years. They run a grocery and feed store on Crab Creek St. at the Transyl-
